B- Read the following text , then decide if these statements are true or false

One day, a family went to spend the day in the countryside, and one little boy left his socks there. Soon after the family left, a raccoon came by, found the socks, and decided to try them on. He spent his days walking through the forest in his new socks. All the animals talked about the raccoon's new look, and some of them were a bit envious that he was getting so much attention. Before long, in that forest, there began appearing squirrels in shirts, rabbits in boots, moles with hats on. and even a bird wearing pants! it wasn't long before the first consequences of fashion-fever began to take effect. Several times the squirrel snagged his shirt on tree bark, stopping him in mid-leap, and sending him plummeting to the ground from a great height. The mole tried to fit into his hole without first taking his hat off. He was stuck in that hole all day. One of the birds got in a tangle with the clothes he was wearing, and had to make a crash-landing on some thistles, full of thorns. Even the raccoon, thanks to his brightly coloured socks, slipped from one of the river rocks and almost drowned. When the casualties came to see Doctor Bear, he gave them all the same prescription: "Go away, and get rid of those clothes, because one day they're going to kill you" Those who listened to the Doctor's advice stopped having accidents. Moreover, the animals realized that they didn't need clothes at all. Starting to wear them had been very silly. and they had only done it to make others envious of them. and to get attention.

Once upon a time, in a desert far away, there lived a rose who was so proud of her beautiful looks. She believed that she was the nicest in the desert. Her only complaint was growing next to an ugly cactus.

Every day, the beautiful rose would insult and mock the cactus on his looks, while the cactus remained quiet and say not a word. All the other plants nearby tried to make the rose stop behaving foolishly but she was arrogant and moved back and forth by her own looks. One scorching summer, the desert became dry, and there was no water left for the plants.

The rose quickly began to wilt. Her beautiful petals dried up, losing their bright color.

Looking to the cactus, she saw a sparrow that was dipping in his beak into the cactus to drink some water . Though the rose was ashamed, she asked the cactus of she could have some water. The kind cactus readily agreed, helping them both through the tough summer, as friends.

A- Read the following text , then choose the correct answer a, b, c, or d.

Natalie du Toit, the South African swimmer, was only 17 when she lost her leg in a road accident. She was one of the promising young swimmers. Her leg had to be amputated at the knee. Everybody thought she would never be able to swim in a competitive way again.

But Natalie went back to the pool three months after the accident. And just after one year, at the Commonwealth Games in Manchester, she was qualified to the final-not for disabled swimmers, but for able-bodied ones. She says, "I remember how thrilled I was the first time I swam . Swimming was my life and still is . You can't go back and change anything . My dream is to swim faster than I did before the accident"

Natalie added: The road to one's dreams isn't always easy to navigate. Sometimes it is dotted with mountains to climb , obstacles to overcome-and hard, mind-numbing times that will make a person feel like quitting. Anything worth having doesn't come easy. So don't turn back around Don't give up.

B- Read the following text , then decide if these statements are true or false

Walt Elias Disney is a well-known name all over the world. You'll be surprised when you know that the man who has affected generations by his fantastic cartoon creations was once considered a failure. In 1919 Disney was fired from his job at the Kansas City Star paper by the editor, who said that Disney shows a lack of imagination and had no good ideas. However, the man who brought us Mickey Mouse and a slew of other characters didn't stop there. He went on establishing an animation studio called "Laugh-O-Gram" because at that time Disney's cartoon creations had gained popularity in the Kansas City area. But unfortunately, he was unable to manage money and the business sank deeper in debt. He filed for bankruptcy and moved to Hollywood. California. The early failures in Disney's life didn't prevent him from moving forward. Disney's failures were a blow to his hopes. However, when he formed the Walt Disney Company, all of his past failures helped to pave the way for a successful business. Disney and the Walt Disney Company have touched the lives of millions across the globe. From cartoons. to theme parks. and animated movies. both children and adults now enjoy the fruits of Disney's labor . If Disney gave up, things would be far different . But in spite of failure and bankruptcy he went on to achieve success through will and hard work.
