Diana, a student from Aleppo, Syria, is studying in Montreal. Moving to a country with a very different climate could be a challenge! In Syria we have a Mediterranean weather, with mild, rainy winters. Here in Canada winter is very cold and snowy. Temperature average is between the single digits and the -20s. I was very worried about the cold. But it wasn't a problem because most buildings here are well heated. Actually this city knows how to stay warm. When the weather gets too chilly, I head to the Underground City – a series of interconnected tunnels beneath Montreal which run for over 32 kms. The tunnels connect shopping malls, universities, banks and seven metro stations. I miss my mom's cooking a lot, the food here is delicious but it's not really the same. Foods, typically considered national dishes of Canada, include poutine, Montreal bagels and butter tarts.

The World Trade Organization, or WTO, is an international organization that aims to promote and facilitate global trade. It works towards its goals by implementing trade agreements and providing technical assistance and training to its members. Established in 1995, the WTO is headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, and has 164 member countries. It operates on the principles of non-discrimination, transparency, and predictability in trade rules and regulations. The WTO has been crucial in shaping international trade, promoting economic growth and development. However, it has also faced criticism for its perceived lack of transparency. Some argue that it prioritizes the interests of developed countries over developing ones, while others see it as an essential institution for ensuring fair and open global trade. The role and effectiveness of the WTO continue to be debated and studied by scholars and policy makers worldwide.
