Pasteur found a way to kill the germs on silkworm eggs and the whole country was thankful. But during his years of work three of his own children died.

Thus began Pasteur's plan of vaccinations to stop illness. It was a success with animals. But, what about people? While he was asking himself this question, he had a chance to answer it. A woman brought him her son, who had been bitten by a mad dog. In those days, such a bite meant a slow and painful death.

Marie's mother died when her youngest daughter was only ten. From then on, Marie knew that she would have to work hard at her lessons if she wanted to be successful in her life. She studied very hard and won top honours at her school.

She was a poor girl who worked to get money to pay for her lessons. She became the most famous woman scientist of her time. That is the story of Marie Curie's life. She did not mind working and she took little notice of the honours that were given to her in later years. This was the secret of her greatness.

Young Marconi had the best teachers to give him lessons

He had a curious mind and always wanted to prove to himself what he read.

Although Marconi's father did not think the wireless sound would ever be important, he gave his son some money to continue his work. He made a wireless machine and took it to England, where the public was ready to hear new ideas.

Marconi told the world that he had heard messages by wireless from across the Atlantic Ocean. His great discovery led to many more wonderful things, like the radio, which we enjoy today.

- Write an account of a visit you made. (Students' Book - page: 45)

- Describe an interesting place you have visited. (Activity Book - page: 32)

Last month, my friends and I visited Apamea. It is an ancient site on the bank of the Orontes River. When we arrived, we set up our camp. There were enormous columns and high walls. As we were walking around, we met a group of tourists. We told them about the history of the site, and they said we were good guides. After that, we climbed up the hill to the citadel. The views from the top were incredible. I will never forget that visit.

Dear

People always try to get suitable place to build their home . It's a palatial villa in a green suburban area that would suit your needs. I recommend to start the building of your house there . The house has a tiled roof which provides shady areas and overlook a swimming pool .There isn't much traffic, and with residents' parking. It's also more expansive than your current place.. it's a great find.

Many thanks,

5-Keep moving to keep fit.

Enjoy your food and stay healthy.

Thinking is good for you to live long and enjoy your old age.

Scientists have shown that people who keep their brains busy tend to live long, happy lives. Most people agree that regular exercise is an important part of a healthy lifestyle. If we don't have time to go to the gym, we can use exercise home . suggest that your meals should be balanced. They should contain fresh fruit and vegetables. You have to play sport at school with your friends . I think these activities will keep on health and you will enjoy your old age.

6-Write an article giving advice to people of your own age who are about to (start a new job\to do well at school).

For me the golden rule if you want to do well: listen and learn from colleagues. Ask your colleagues questions if you aren't sure about something and offer to help them. Another tip is that it is better to be punctual and to work hard. Also, be honest and don't make up excuses for not doing something. If you have a job starting soon, remember some of these tips. In the end, you'll be happier and more successful.
