Language is considered a very complex form of communication that occurs among humans who use words while talking to express their needs and feelings. Animals show signs of communication. Researchers say that animals do not have a true language like humans. However, they do communicate with each other with sounds and gestures. Children show these same forms of communication as babies when crying and gesturing, but they slowly learn the words of language and use them as a form of communication. Dogs can be trained to follow certain commands. They are experts at reading their owner's intentions. Animals communicate with each other in response to different motivations such as hunger or fear.
