Suggested topic:"Organizing your time"

One of the most important keys to success is organizing time.

My friend is always careless about doing that. He is also untidy.

First, he should set a time table for studying and spending time efficiently. So, he should wake up early and study eight hours daily. He should study for two hours for each subject and have half an hour break. Also, having light meals while studying is a good idea. Moreover, he shouldn't waste his time on social media.

Finally, if I were him, I wouldn't waste a minute without doing fruitful things.
