Nothing is better than leading a healthy life, but some factors may prevent that. Smoking cigarettes and pollution represent two fearful enemies to man, as they destroy health and bring about suffering and death. Smoking is one of the most effective factors in the development of heart diseases and cancer. Doctors have proved that the smokers' lungs, throat and respiratory system are often attacked by cancer. Male smokers are more prone to heart disease than non-smoking males. Surprisingly, female smokers are less affected as they don't breathe in the smoke so deeply. People should rethink about doing this bad habit. In some places, there are rooms allotted for smoking to protect non-smokers from its dangers, but I think this does nothing as smoking is everywhere and affects all people negatively. They are helpless victims since they inhale poisonous gas, ash and nicotine; they receive harm just like the smokers themselves while actually they've never put a cigarette in their mouths. In conclusion, I think that there should be a punishment for those who smoke in public and harm others, and also smokers should pay higher taxes than healthy people.

Having a car has many advantages, but cars also have brought about some problems, such as accidents, parking places and pollution. The government always tries hard to find solutions to these problems. Many studies have shown that it is better to wear your seat belt when you are travelling in a car. A seat belt greatly reduces the risk of injuries in an accident.

However, many people still don't wear them. Some people feel uncomfortable with the seat belt. Others don't think that the seat belt can protect them.

Vast parking areas should be available in the city to prevent cars from parking on main streets and causing traffic problems. Also, parking fees should be high to encourage people to use cars only when necessary. In addition to that, the idea of the electric car needs to be popularised to have a green world. A French company has designed a very special kind of electric car. 3 Read the following passage, and then answer the questions:

Sleep is very important for our health and well-being. We should get enough sleep to let our brains work properly. It plays a vital role in healing and repairing the heart and blood vessels. It also helps regulate hormones that control appetite, metabolism and growth. Scientists have found that sixty percent of adults suffer from sleep deprivation, which is not having enough sleep. If we don't sleep well for a long time, we may get sick because the immune system becomes weak and the body loses its ability to fight infections. Also, we may have accidents and make mistakes because we do not concentrate on what we are doing. Many drivers have car accidents as a result of sleep deprivation.

An average of eight hours of sleep a night gives our bodies good preparation for the next day. To help us sleep, we should set regular times for bed and wake up. Also, we shouldn't drink a lot of caffeine such as fizzy drinks, tea and coffee during the day. We should try to avoid eating, studying or watching television in bed because bed is meant for sleep.
