Light Initiative started with two people and now it includes more than 350 volunteers. They voluntarily record school and college books for the benefit of the visually impaired people. They started recording the books of the 9th and the 12th grades; they also record university books and references. Their aim is to meet the visually impaired people's actual needs whatever they are. They use a Facebook page and a YouTube channel. On the Facebook page they announce that they finished this book or this curriculum, and they use the YouTube channel to publish the recordings. These records are saved in mp3 format.

Their services are absolutely free; i.e. the volunteer is not paid, and it doesn't cost the visually impaired person anything. Anyone with a network can have access to their records.

Volunteers need very simple things. They use mobiles for recording and laptops to do the montage. No professional tools are needed.

Someday people will live in space. By the end of this century, there will be permanent settlements that will allow people to lead a normal life in space. Hundreds of astronauts are going to work and live in the space station, which will take ten years to build. In some way, living on the moon will be easier than living in a space station and it will be cheaper because people won't bring everything from the Earth by rockets. The space city will be like a gigantic glass wheel that will contain buildings, factories and special meeting places.

It will have air so that inhabitants can breathe and they won't need to wear special space-suits inside the buildings. Scientists also believe that they will obtain water from a large ice lake on the moon.

People won't have to do housework because robots will do that for them. Food won't be a problem.

6. Nowadays, it is possible for people to live on the moon.

7. Living on the space station will be more difficult than living on the moon.

8. The space city will be provided with air.

9. people will live similarly to small towns on the Earth.

10. the space city is too small to live in.
