An email accepting or refusing an invitation and making suggestions.

Dear Ali

Thank you for inviting me for your birthday, I would like to come, but I have taken part in a competition, in the school, so I don't have free time to come for your birthday party, and I hope you to spend a good time, what about going to the zoo next week. It will be great, write me back soon.

bye for now

Hamad

Write an email to your friend telling him about your latest news.

Hi Ali

how are you? I am writing this email to tell you about my latest news, last week I took part in a spelling bee competition, I answered all questions, they were very easy, after some days the English Teacher announced that I got the first prize, all my friends Were so happy. when I got home, my parents were so happy, and my father told me that, we will go to souq waqf at the weekend. that's all for now, what about you, I am waiting for your news.

Yours

Ahmed
