Read the following text, and then answer the questions below:

Thomas Edison: The Inventor of Light

1. Thomas Edison was a remarkable inventor who lived in the late 1800s and early 1900s. He created many amazing things that changed the way people lived. Let's take a journey through time to learn about his incredible inventions!

2. In the year 1879, Thomas Edison invented the light bulb. Before his invention, people used candles and gas lamps to light their homes, which were not only dim but also dangerous. Thomas Edison's light bulb change people's lives brighter and safer, lighting up and streets. This was a massive leap forward in making our world brighter.

3. But Edison didn't stop there! In 1877, he made the phonograph, a magical machine that could record and play back sounds. Imagine being able to listen to your favorite songs whenever you wanted. Edison's phonograph made that dream come true!

4. In 1878, he worked on an electric power station. This station was like a super generator, sending electricity to houses and buildings. This invention allowed people to use Edison's light bulbs and many other electrical devices. Throughout his life, Thomas Edison created over a thousand inventions! He was always thinking of new ways to make life better and more exciting. He was a true genius, and his work continues to brighten our world today.

5. So, the next time you turn on a light or listen to music, remember Thomas Edison, the brilliant inventor who made it all possible. He truly was a light in the darkness and a sound in silence, making our world a better place to live.

Writing - opinion essay

Write about the following topic:

Smoking not only harms the smoker, but also those who are nearby. Therefore, smoking should be banned in public places. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

Give reasons for your answer.

First paragraph - INTRODUCTION

the topic and how you feel about it

Second paragraph: first argument with examples

Third paragraph : second argument with examples

Fourth paragraph : third argument with examples

Final paragraph : CONCLUSION and your opinion

No doubt that there are some bad habits in our daily life. One of these habits is smoking. Smoking not only harms the smoker, but also those who are nearby.

Smoking should be banned in public places for many reasons.

The first reason is that smoking affects our health.

It causes fatal diseases, including lung cancer and heart disease

It is responsible for 7 million deaths globally every year.

The second reason is that smoking results in air pollution. For example, people inhale polluted oxygen.

The last reason is that money spent on smoking is a big burden on living. The more you smoke, the more money you waste.

All in all, all efforts should be done to keep society free of smoking because it leads to harmful consequences. In my opinion, banning it acts as a protection of humanity.
