3 An Athlete I Admire رياضي أعجب به

Mohamed Rashwan is an athlete I truly admire because of his honesty and great sportsmanship. He was one of Egypt's most respected judo champions and became famous during the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. He reached the final match against a strong Japanese player who was injured at that time. Although Rashwan had a chance to win the gold medal by attacking his rival's weak point, he refused to do so. He believed that fair play was more important than winning. Rashwan lost the match and won the silver medal, but he gained great respect from people all over the world. His story teaches us that true champions value honor, respect, and honesty more than medals.

4 An Important Football Match I Watched مباراة كرة قدم هامة شاهدها

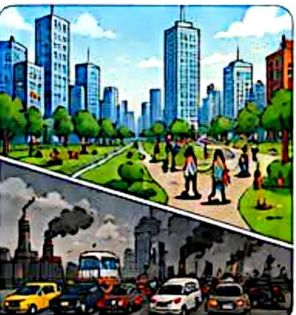

Last month, I watched an exciting football match between two strong teams at our local stadium. The game was important because both teams needed a win to qualify for the final round of the tournament. The stadium was full of cheering fans and the atmosphere was electric. In the first half, both teams played well, but no goals were scored. After the break, one team scored a brilliant goal from a free kick, and the crowd went wild. The other team tried hard to equalize, but the defenders were very strong. In the end, the match finished 1-0 and I felt happy to watch this exciting game.

An Adventure Story I Have Read

قصة مغامرات قرأتها

I have read an exciting adventure story called Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea by Jules Verne. It is about a strange sea monster that attacks ships. Professor Aronnax, his servant Conseil, and a brave sailor named Ned Land go to search for it. They discover that the monster is really a submarine called the Nautilus. The submarine is led by the mysterious Captain Nemo. They travel under the sea and see amazing sea creatures, coral forests, and even a lost city. They also face many dangers in the deep ocean. I like this story because it is full of adventure, science, and imagination.

The Best Quality a Person Should Have

أفضل صفة يجب أن يتحلى بها الشخص

In my opinion, the best quality a person should have is honesty. An honest person always tells the truth and does not cheat or lie. People trust honest individuals and respect them. Honesty helps build strong friendships and good relationships with others. When someone is honest, he feels proud of himself and has a clear conscience. Even if telling the truth is difficult, it is always better than lying. Honest people are successful in life because others depend on them. In schools and workplaces, honesty creates a safe and fair environment. That is why honesty is the most important quality in life.

Wildlife Experts

خبراء الحياة البرية

Wildlife experts are people who study animals and protect them in nature. They work in forests, deserts, oceans, and national parks. Their job is to learn about wild animals and understand how they live and survive. Wildlife experts help protect endangered animals from danger, such as hunting and pollution. They also teach people how to care for the environment and respect nature. Sometimes, they rescue injured animals and return them safely to the wild. Their work is very important because animals are part of the balance of life on Earth. I respect wildlife experts because they are brave, patient, and dedicated to protecting our planet and its beautiful creatures.

Arctic Animals

حيوانات القطب الشمالي

Animals in the Arctic have special adaptations to survive extreme cold and ice. They have thick fur or blubber that keeps their bodies warm and saves energy. Polar bears have white fur for camouflage and large paws to walk on snow and swim. Seals use thick fat to stay warm and rest on ice near the sea. Many Arctic animals change their migration and feeding habits when ice melts earlier. Some move to colder areas where ice lasts longer and food is available. Others change their behavior to find food in new ways. These adaptations help animals survive climate change and harsh Arctic conditions. This shows how flexible animals can be today.

Desert Animals

حيوانات الصحراء

Animals adapt in amazing ways to survive in difficult environments. In deserts, extreme heat, cold nights, and lack of water force animals to change their bodies and behavior. The fennec fox uses its large ears to lose heat and hear prey underground, while thick fur protects its feet from hot sand. Desert tortoises save water by storing it in their bodies and slowing their energy use when food is scarce. Camels can drink a lot of water, store fat in their humps, and use wide feet and long eyelashes to survive sandstorms. These adaptations help animals live where others cannot, and show how nature finds clever solutions to environmental challenges.

How We Can Protect Our Nature

كيف تحمي طبيعتنا

We can protect our nature in many simple ways. First, we should keep our environment clean and never throw rubbish in the streets, rivers, or seas. We must reduce the use of plastic because it harms animals and pollutes the land and water. Planting trees is also very important because trees give us oxygen and make the air clean. We should save water and electricity and not waste them. Recycling paper, glass, and plastic helps reduce pollution. It is also important to protect wild animals and not destroy their homes. When everyone works together to care for nature, we can live in a cleaner, safer, and more beautiful world.

Subject An animal you like الموضوع

Hi Ahmed,

How are you and how is your family? I want to tell you about an animal I like. My favorite animal is the snow leopard. It is a large cat with thick gray fur covered in dark spots, which helps it blend in with the rocks. It has powerful legs and a long tail that helps it balance while climbing. Snow leopards live in the cold mountain regions of Central Asia at very high heights. Their wide paws work like snowshoes and help them walk on snow easily. Thick fur keeps them warm in freezing weather. They hunt wild sheep, goats, and small animals. Sadly, snow leopards are endangered, and only a few thousand remain in the wild today.

Hi Ahmed,

How are you and how is your family? I want to tell you about a visit to the zoo. Last weekend, I visited the zoo with my family. It was a sunny day, and we were excited to see many animals.

First, we went to the lion's area and watched the lions sleep under the sun. Then, we saw tall giraffes eating leaves from the trees. I loved the playful monkeys swinging on the branches. We also saw colorful parrots and a huge elephant.

We enjoyed feeding the goats. We learned about different animals and their habitats. We took many photos and bought a small souvenir. It was a fun and memorable day.
